

White House Christmas Ornaments – 2011

Fundraiser for Langley Orchestra Society

This is the 2011 Official White House Christmas Ornament, honoring the twenty-sixth president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt. On the back is a full color image of President Roosevelt with his wife and children, reflecting the excitement that this lively young family brought to life at the White House. President and Mrs. Roosevelt dearly loved their children and devoted the entire day on Christmas to their entertainment, setting all public business aside. Christmas day for the Roosevelt family usually included a horseback ride or carriage drive through Rock Creek Park, a visit to the home of local relatives, and then an intimate Christmas dinner.
